BLIZZARD HITS WESTERN STATES, HEAVY DAMAGE REPORTED

Loss to Telegraph, Telephone and Transportation Lines in Wisconsin Alone Set at $1,000,000—Many Trains
Stalled in Huge Snow Drifts

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 5.—Stalled trains, snow-covered roads, broken wires, and high drifting winds, today told in quiet the tale of the violent wind and snow storm that raged throughout the middle and northwest yesterday and last night.

In six Wisconsin towns, travelers from seven passenger trains today await the coming of the snow plows that will permit them to proceed to their destination, their trains having been stopped by drifts that in some places were reported 10 feet deep. At Wausau, Wis., a Chicago Great Western train was reported in "distress" and "waiting" but all other trains in the western part of the state pulled into stations before piling up the hopeless task of bucking snow drifts.

A tangled maze of telephone and telegraph wires near Tomah, Wis., resulted in cutting off many Chicago circuits.

DEAD WAR PRESIDENT TO GO TO SLEEP AS PLAIN CITIZEN

Mrs. Wilson to Carry Out Wishes of Husband That He Be Buried as Private Citizen—Declines Government's Offer
of Final Resting Place Near Unknown Soldier

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A fringe of folk on the street before the Wilson home, waiting to see the great ones who came and went, and the guardian police who turned unceremonious traffic from the steep, narrow street, alone marked outwardly today the preparations for last honors to the dead war president. No marshalling of troops for the parade of sorrow was needed, no setting of lines that thousands might pass beside his bier, for he will go to his sleep tomorrow in the charmer in which death found him, the plain American citizen with the day's of his place and high dignities put aside forever.

Brief Religious Services

With only the two brief religious services to mark the entombment in the vault beneath Bethesda chapel on the hills high above the stricken home, there was little that official Washington could do to mark its respect and admiration for the life that had ended. Had Mrs. Wilson willed otherwise, untold honors would have been poured out to mark the nation's mourning. Even as it is, in every military and naval post beneath the Stars and Stripes, last honors will be paid in full with the booming of guns, sounding a knell beneath half-masted colors. For the 20 day period of national mourning already declared, President Coolidge has thrust aside all social activities at the White House.

Very few of the many who would come to express their feelings at the services if they could find place can be admitted either to the private ceremony at the home or the later public ceremony at the chapel. At the home only the family and a little group of closest friends can find standing room. There can be no place for the plain folk who have no other means of expressing their sorrow and admiration than to stand for long hours along the short guarded ways where the funeral train will pass. For them as well as for himself, President Coolidge will go to the house with Mrs. Coolidge and follow the eulogies to the place of entombment. In that public ceremony, (Continued to Page Six)

Edward Fisher, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, in a brief statement of the accomplishments and activities of the chamber in 1923, lays particular stress on the fact that the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club are active jointly in a movement that at present seems destined to be crowned with success—the community chest. He states also that "193 members were added during the year, more than were added in

KANSAS WOMAN SEEKS AUNT AND UNCLE

Mrs. Sarah Stahl, 203 East 10th street, Coffeyville, Kansas, has written to Mayor John J. Donovan asking him to assist her in locating an aunt and uncle, Sarah and Michael Brady, who were known to have lived in Lowell 20 to 25 years ago. Her aunt was a mill operative and lived on the Lawrence corporation for several years.

EXPLORATION SHIP MAUD IN DANGER

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Feb. 5.—It is feared here that the Norwegian exploration ship Maud, which is drifting with the ice in the Arctic ocean, is in danger of grounding on the New Siberian islands. A radio message from the vessel gave her position on Saturday as latitude 75.33 north, longitude 156.45 east.

GALLERY RIDES CHAMPIONSHIP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Curtis Eaton of Johnston, Pa., was announced today as the winner of the Gallery Ride championship of the United States at 54 feet kneeling position with a score of 397 out of a possible 400. He also won the standing position championship at 54 feet with 354.

The kneeling position at 54 feet was won by C. C. Harrell, Chicago, with 398. The standing position at 54 feet went to H. M. Thomas, New Haven, Conn., with 351. The awards were made by the National Rifle association.

Pastor of German Catholic Church in Bridgeport,
Conn. Shot to Death

Rev. Hubert F. Dahme Attacked While Returning
From Sick Call

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 5.—After an all-night search participated in by every available member of the department, police today admitted that they were completely at sea in their attempt to trace the murderer of Rev. Father Hubert F. Dahme, pastor of St. Joseph's German Catholic church, or to discover a motive for the crime. Father Dahme was shot through the head by an unknown assassin early last evening as he was walking along Main street. The man had previously been walking with the priest, according to the police, being attracted by the report of his. Father Dahme, the police say, was returning from a visit to a parishioner who is ill. He died in the hospital.

EXPECT ACTION UPON FOUR NOMINATIONS

Action upon the last four nominations made by Mayor John J. Donovan is expected at tonight's meeting of the city council and from all that could be learned today it is not expected that either the name of Joseph M. Finnegan or Joseph Payette respectively nominated for city treasurer and as a member of the budget and audit commission, will be taken from the table.

Nominations upon which action is anticipated are those of Henry H. Harris for position on the board of library trustees; Frederick F. McLean, a member of the public service board; Charles Riley, as smoke inspector; and William A. Arnold as superintendent of state aid.

There is not much routine business on file in the clerk's office for tonight's meeting, most of it having been cleared away at the special meeting last Friday night.

BLAMES HIS MISFORTUNE ON THE POLICE

Joseph LaChance, on trial for non-support, in district court this morning, told Judge Bright he is "up against it because every time I get a responsible position, I get the boss on a crook and then I get fired."

Defendant's statement followed a reprimand for his failure to comply with a previous order to pay $10 a week to his wife's support. He has been paying $5 weekly.

The court, before continuing the case, remarked that it was unfair of officers to do as defendant alleged, and that such was not the purpose of probation.

WILL SUBMIT ANNUAL REPORT TO COUNCIL

Colonius P. Cronin, director of the city employment bureau at city hall, will submit his 1923 annual report to the city council tonight.

It will show that during the year 1205 men and 1016 women called at his office for work and that 754 men and 211 women were placed in jobs by him. In addition 122 former soldiers and sailors were given work, making a total of 419 persons who were given work when employment could be found.

The greatest demand for work was evident in December, when 552 calls were received. August was the lightest month, there being but 233 calls.

Requisitions for help were received to the number of 412, representing total vacancies of 2738. Of this number 1905 were for men and 833 for women.

The month of January this year brought unprecedented requests for aid. Director Cronin said today. He received calls for 741 men and 418 women who are badly in need of employment.

FAVORABLE REPORTS FROM HOSPITALS

The condition of Walter McBurnett, who was injured in the Westford street automobile accident Sunday morning, is reported today at St. John's hospital as slightly improved. Slight improvement is also noted at the same hospital in the condition of Daniel P. Gauthier, who was injured in the same accident.

Very little change is noted in the condition of Roseman James H. Tracy, who is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and other injuries received when he fell from "Hose Truck" last Wednesday while responding to an alarm.

Three other patients are reported at the Lowell general hospital at the corner of Little North Street, on Wednesday, who were seriously injured a week ago when struck by an automobile.

500,000 SUIT Arguments in Trial of Breach of Promise Suit

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 5.—Arguments were resumed today in the trial of Mrs. Rebecca De Beuchamp, Georgia, suit against Asa G. Chandler, Sr., of Atlanta. It is expected the case will reach the jury this afternoon.

Returned to the persons alleged to have conspired to break the marriage of Mrs. De Beuchamp, the latter's counsel said he "contributed them on against her."

INJUNCTION TO HALT OIL EXTRACTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Injunction proceedings to prevent further extraction of oil from the Ten Pot Dome and Elk Hill reserves, will be instituted by the government's special counsel in the oil land lease cases, as soon as President Coolidge signs the Walsh resolution recently adopted by congress.

REGARD WILSON PRIVATE CITIZEN

German Embassy Secretary
Explains Failure to Join All
Other Nations in Tribute

No Flag Has Flown Over
Embassy at Any Time
Since Wilson's Death

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) By direction of the Berlin government, the German embassy has refrained from making any display of mourning for Woodrow Wilson.

No flag has been flown over the embassy at any time since Mr. Wilson's death, although the other embassies and legations have had their colors half staffed since the official notification reached them before noon on Sunday.

Baron Leopold Plessen, third secretary at the embassy, made this explanation:

"The German government considers the late Mr. Woodrow Wilson a private citizen, and therefore has instructed the German embassy to refrain from any official display of mourning."

When Mr. Wilson died, the state department, following the diplomatic custom in such events, notified the French ambassador, Jules Jusserand, who is dean of the diplomatic corps. The ambassador promptly notified all of his colleagues, and flags on the diplomatic missions were at once displayed at half staff.

Failure of the German embassy to show its colors in mourning was not at first noted. When the lack of flag was observed and an inquiry as to the reason made at the embassy, Baron Plessen made his statement. State department officials would not comment.

"LURES" HELD IN $10,000 EACH

Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Reese
Arraigned in Superior
Criminal Court

Action Follows Indictments
Returned by Middlesex
County Grand Jury

CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 5.—Arraigned on indictments returned yesterday by the Middlesex county grand jury, Mrs. Theresa Duggan and Mrs. Lillian Hardy Reese, pleaded not guilty in the superior criminal court here today to being accessories before and after to felony. Each furnished bail set at $10,000, for their appearance at hearings later.

In the trial of William J. Conahan, former district attorney of Middlesex county, for attempted blackmail, which was declared a mistrial in the Suffolk county court, the women were charged with acting as "lures" in the alleged entrapment of wealthy men in compromising situations for purposes of blackmail. It was charged that the women occupied a Cambridge apartment for the purpose and because of that, it is supposed, they were induced and arraigned in this court. They were arrested yesterday.

Six indictments in all were returned yesterday by the Middlesex county grand jury after Henry H. Leveson, who was indicted with Conahan, but recently pleaded guilty, testified before it with two court stenographers who served in an earlier trial. This morning a partial report including an additional secret indictment, was handed up and further arrests were expected.

FORMER POSTMASTER SHOT AND KILLED

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Robert E. Wood, a former postmaster here, was shot and killed late last night in a fight with police, who sought to search his automobile for contraband liquor.

Wood, who police say, was evaded from the excessive use of moonshine, opened fire on the officers when they stopped his car and Patrolman Ben Comer was shot in the chest. The force of the bullet was broken by the windshield and the policeman escaped with a flesh wound. Replacements ran to the spot and Wood again opened fire. It was returned and he was killed. 19.30 bullets were found in his body.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A 25 per cent. reduction in all personal income taxes, payable this year, was approved today by republicans of the house ways and means committee.

ANOTHER MISSION FROM PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) The Philippine independence commission has decided to send another mission to the United States in March for the purpose of making a further plea for independence for the islands.

The personnel of the mission and the date on which they will leave for the United States are to be decided upon soon.

Their handwork, he said he could picture in his own mind the group of dominating influences that prevented Mr. Chandler from following his own will.

In summing up he said: Mrs. De Beuchamp had been irretrievably damaged by the failure of the defense to produce in flesh and blood the persons making the charge of immoral conduct against her.

CITY HALL OFFICES WILL CLOSE AT NOON HOUR TOMORROW

Mayor Donovan Orders Tribute to Nation's Dead—
City Council Will Adopt Resolutions in Special
Session—Merchants Discuss Closing of Stores

City hall offices will close at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow noon, for the balance of the day, as a mark of respect for the memory of Woodrow Wilson, whose funeral services are set for 3 p.m. This decision was made by Mayor John J. Donovan today.

As a means of making further public recognition of the passing of a great man, the city council will meet in special session at 7:30 o'clock this evening, to adopt suitable resolutions bearing upon the former president's death and to order them spread upon the records of the city. This special meeting will consider nothing else and will be followed at 8 o'clock by the regular meeting already scheduled.

WINTER CARNIVAL WILL START TOMORROW

The second annual winter carnival will get underway tomorrow as originally planned and will conclude with the knicker dance at the Auditorium on Thursday night. The king and queen of the carnival will be chosen at the dance.

The program originally worked out by the committee, including horse racing, skiing, snow football and other events, will be carried out in its entirety. Chairman George Wood, named by the Lowell Ad club as the chairman of the winter carnival committee, announced this morning that the affair will positively start tomorrow. Only a sweeping rain that would carry all semblance of snow away with it could halt the start of the carnival program.

The carnival committee met last night at the rooms of the chamber of commerce and voted that while conditions are far from ideal they are good enough to permit the holding of the affair and to the original plans, even to dates, will be adhered to.

Lowell's winter carnival committee has decided to keep the entrants' list for candidates for king and queen of the 1924 carnival open until 10 o'clock Thursday night, the night of the big ball at the Auditorium. All persons eligible to compete. Dancing will precede the winter style show. Three judges, their names to be announced later, will pick the snappiest appearing man and woman in winter sport togs and prizes of $100 each will be awarded.

While it will be necessary to be in winter sport togs to participate in the competition the dance will be open to all regardless of the seasonal apparel worn. Following the style show the dancing, which will begin at 8 o'clock and be interrupted for the contest, will continue until 1 o'clock.

A tug of war between the Girl City club team and a 37 W. C. T. U. team will be one of the carnival features. The Girl City club, under Miss Sadie Melancon, has arranged a special stunt program for Wednesday night. The football game in the snow between the Princeton and Ponies will be another feature for Wednesday night.

Tickets are now on sale at the following places: Green's drug store, Barton Studio, Courier-Citizen office, Gallagher's candy store, Merrimack street, Christos, Pawtucket and School streets, Belvidere Family drug store, Henry's, Oaklands, square, Brock's, Westford street, Webster's drug store, Bridge street, chamber of commerce, rooming, G. F. Polard Co. and Dickerman and McQuade.

COUSIN OF THE LATE CZAR

Princess Orloff, Daughter of Grand Duke Peter, With Husband, Reach Boston

Princess Says He Came to
U. S. to Seek Place With Some Auto Concern

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—Among the passengers who landed from the United States line steamship George Washington here today, were Prince and Princess Orloff, the latter a daughter of Grand Duke Peter and a cousin by marriage of the late Czar Nicholas.

In easy and fluent English, the prince, a solidly built man in the late 30's, said that he had come to the United States with the idea of forming a possible connection with some automobile concern here. He said he and a few others had recently become interested in the availability for automobile manufacturing of the ores in Russian mines, of which the prince owns a number and that he would discuss the matter with various leaders in the industry here.

Princess Orloff would not talk on the political aspects of Lenin's death or of Great Britain's recognition of Russia, saying he was not yet well enough informed. After passing through the customs he and his wife went to a Boston hotel pending their departure in a few days for New York. The princess, handsome and slender, chatted in French with a friend while her husband attended to the routine of debarkation.

A representative of Henry Ford met Prince Orloff on board the steamer and offered his services in making hotel reservations. Neither would say whether business dealings with the Detroit manufacturer were in progress. It was reported from Cherbourg when the prince and princess sailed, that they would settle in Detroit, but the prince said their American visit would be merely temporary.

With the prince and princess was Nicholas Sokoloff, the judge who investigated the fate of the late czar and his family. He and the prince both ridiculed reports that the three intended to look into the claims of a young woman pretending to be the Grand Duchess Olga and said such claims to Russian royalty were as numerous as to be insignificant. M. Sokoloff, the prince explained, was here to secure American rights to his books on Russian history.

AUTOS IN COLLISION

An automobile operated by Herbert Burroughs of 65 Plain street collided with one operated by Miss Marjorie Butler of 133 Stevens street shortly after 5 o'clock last night at the intersection of Westford and Nichols sts. Both machines were slightly damaged and William A. Burroughs of 83 West Fourth street, a passenger in the Burroughs' machine, was shaken as a result of the impact.

FUNERALS

UPHAM—Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie M. Uphem were held at her home, 141 Moody street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Charles S. Otto, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, officiating. There was a large delegation from the Central Baptist church, of which the deceased was an active member, also from the Sam. Walter Foss Literary club. The flowers were numerous. The bearers were Leon E. Brown, O. Leabetter, Walter A. Chase and Dr. Norman S. Phillips. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. J. L. Roberts and George S. Drew. Burial was in the family lot in the Edson cemetery where the burial service was read by Rev. Mr. Otto. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

LITTLEFIELD—The funeral of Arthur C. Littlefield took place from his home, 27 Fremont street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. P. J. Thomas, pastor of the First Congregational church. A large delegation was present, representing

Just like a woman! Anna J. Kewens, 21, "blappe" bandit, walked into a Cleveland drug store, pointed a shiny little automatic at the male attendant and proceeded to help herself to the cash register's contents. Five days later she phoned to tell him how sorry she was. That proved her undoing, for police tracing the source of the call, arrested her as she left a pay station. Anna told detectives unemployment and impending hunger drove her to it. Just another case of a small town girl getting off on the wrong track in a big city, the officers say.

BROKER FAILS TO APPEAR BEFORE OIL COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Because of a misunderstanding as to the hour of the meeting of the senate oil committee, Samuel Untermyer, head of a Cleveland, Ohio, stock brokerage firm, was not present today to respond to his name when it was called. No other witnesses had been summoned for today and further investigation of the naval oil leases was deferred until next Thursday.

Mr. Untermyer accompanied by the former manager of his Washington branch, James Sloane Jr., appeared at the hearing room later and held a conference with Chairman Lammont.

They brought them books of the Washington branch which the committee desired to have examined to determine whether they contain any record of transaction for federal government officials in the stock of the Mammoth oil Co. This company was organized by the Sinclair interests to take over the lease of the Teapot Dome reserve owned by Harry F. Sinclair from Albert B. Hall, as secretary of the interior.

Mr. Untermyer agreed to turn over his books to the special accountants.

THIRD AND ARCHIE ROOSEVELT—The Federal Trade commission, which already are conducting an examination of the books of W. H. Hulse & Co., a Washington banking and brokerage concern.

Books of the association of petroleum producers of Mexico and the national association for the protection of American rights in Mexico, also are sought by the committee. In this connection, subpoenas have been issued for New York City, John T. Kirk, former republican national committee chairman for Connecticut, also has been summoned, but the time of his examination has not been disclosed. He was in Miami, Fla., when the subpoena was served.

A TRIBUTE

Services and friends were expressed yesterday afternoon at the funeral of the death of Daniel J. Clark after a few hours' illness.

Clark, who has entire line of this city, his friends were legion and from all sides came expressions of sorrow and deepest sympathy for the family so sadly bereaved, especially his aged mother with whom he lived and who is called upon to mourn the loss of a devoted son.

To all who called him "Dad," he had been a source of comfort and joy, and his death was a great loss to all who knew him. He was a man of great character and a true friend to all who knew him. His death was a great loss to all who knew him.

Somebody in New Orleans is making a fortune on the races. But those so far discovered gathering in the colic are blind or deformed.

When the race track opened for the winter season, the Louisiana commission for the blind got permission for eight blind men to sell programs with in the track. These eight are selling more programs than all of the balances of the big force combined.

presario of the San Carlo, in this year offering a sumptuous operatic fare surpassing by far anything he has ever attempted before. His artists are absolutely first class, his orchestra is enlarged and more beautiful than ever; he has added much beautiful new scenery, with many sets of unusual magnificence and elaborate dimensions; he has gone to extra pains and expense to furnish brilliant and colorful costumes, importing many of these from the countries which figure in the plots of the operas they are used in. For instance, the "Madame Butterfly" costumes were personally selected in Japan by the celebrated Japanese prima donna Tamaki Kuroi, while the "La Boheme," "Cavalleria Rusticana," and "Pagliacci" costumes were chosen in France and Italy last summer by Mr. Gallo himself. Such careful forethought insures absolute authenticity in the performances. Yet in spite of all this to be expected, Mr. Gallo hasn't relaxed his personal administration one iota. This is partly the opera-to-the-masses with a vengeance. And it is probably the explanation why his new "committee of one hundred," composed of many of the most prominent and influential New York and national elite boosters known to Who's Who, is so solidly behind him.

All this was noted by your correspondent during a faithful attendance at the brilliant New York season of the San Carlo at the Century theatre, the palatial opera house opposite Central park, which is yearly becoming more and more famous the country over as a unique institution of grand opera in America, due to the remarkable work done by the San Carlo firm.

CHELMSFORD VOTERS
ELECT OFFICERS

More than 1000 Chelmsford voters flocked to the polls yesterday to choose new town officers for the coming year, great interest being manifested in several hot contests bordering on the political, with personal animosities predominating.

In the ballot fight for the office of assessor, William J. Quigley defeated his lively opponent, James P. Dunnigan, a former assessor, by a margin of 24 votes. The Quigley vote totals were 707. Dunnigan received 682.

The school committee contest resulted in a win for Charles H. Clough, who received 672 votes to his opponents, McAdams 630 and Bane, 178. Elphinst 2. Brown won over Abbott L. Emery in the fight for membership on the board of health, receiving 535 votes to Emery's 453.

The results for the other offices were as follows:

Moderator, Walter Perham, 1123. Town clerk for three years, Harold C. Patterson, 1202. Selectman for three years, George Rigby, 1132. Overseer of the poor for three years, George Rigby, 1089. REMONSTRANTS TO
STABLE PETITION

The board of health yesterday afternoon gave a hearing on a petition of A. G. Titus to maintain a stable for three horses and a cow at 225 Branch street. After hearing evidence and listening to two remonstrants the board took the matter under advisement and will hold it up pending a view of the premises.

Mr. Titus, speaking in favor of his petition, said he has three trotting horses and a cow in the stable at present, but plans to dispose of the cow within a few days. He told the board members he is using every precaution to keep the place sanitary. The remonstrants were two families who live in a tenement house next door. They objected to odors which come from the stable and the noise of the horses at night.

WESTFORD TOWN
MEETING MONDAY

Annual town meeting will take place in Westford, Monday, Feb. 11, the polls being opened at 8 a. m. and closed at 1 p. m. There are 999 voters in the town, many new names being added at the recent registration meetings.

Frank L. Furbush is opposed for selectman by Fred E. Blodgett. There are three aspirants for school committee—Arthur G. Hildreth, Martha G.

Whiting and George F. White. Three citizens also aspire to the single office of constable—Joseph Walker, William L. Wall and John Sullivan. Several candidates will run on stickers. It is said. The town warrant contains 53 articles.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS
WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is a exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests normally and healthfully without need of special pills or artificial dieting.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or curd and in the Bismarck form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." Adv.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

No Definite Plans as Yet for the Reopening of the Theatre

Al. Lutteringer, sole owner of the Lutteringer stock company, now in their second successful season at the Lowell Opera House, arrived early this morning from Bridgeport, Conn., to survey the fire damage of yesterday and make his plans for the immediate future. Mr. Lutteringer was met at the depot this morning by Langdon R. Barbydt, resident manager of the opera house, and H. H. Fish, scenic artist and stage manager.

They went immediately to the theatre where the house was thoroughly inspected. Thomas Hennessey, owner of the building, accompanied them on the tour. It was found that aside from water damage the theatre proper had hardly been affected by the flames which besieged it all of yesterday afternoon. The big brick walls and sections of water curtain had done their work well. The lobby is ruined and the concessioner's smoking room was gutted. Aside from this one would hardly know there had been a fire in the theatre. The house is cold and water in the boiler room, at a depth of two feet in places, froze during the night.

The gallery will undoubtedly have to be closed, the fire escapes threatened having fallen at the height of the blaze, and the water having caused untold damage. The remainder of the water damage is confined to the back of the theatre, the aisle carpets on the main floor being as dry today as they were a week ago.

Mr. Lutteringer announced he could say but little until after he had conferred with the property owner and with insurance adjusters. The company was notified of an indefinite suspension of all of them have announced their intention of spending the rest of the week here at least, awaiting definite word. There is a strong possibility that if speedy and adequate adjustments are made the theatre will be open next Monday night. A new lobby will have to be provided or else the old lobby from Georgian street might possibly be used and the present lobby closed. The state inspector will be interviewed by the theatre men to find the limit of their probabilities.

The theatre, the oldest in the city, stood up exceptionally well under a severe test. The big brick structure escaped unscathed save for the destruction in the lobby, which in reality is just an "L" entrance built on to the house proper. Had it not been that the firemen were obliged to run hose lines through the house, opening fire curtains to do so, the place could have been closed like a vault and escaped with hardly a bit of damage. As it is the house stands as a surprise to every one in town, it's the existing qualities proven as of the best.

"I will call off 'The Divorce Question' which was to open this afternoon," said Mr. Lutteringer. "I have sent Mr. Rayold, the director here, to Bridgeport with the play to rehearse and to get the cast in it and we will present it there next week."

"I can't say probably until tomorrow just what we will do. Things are not as bad as they sounded when I first heard them and we may reopen soon. My contracts with my players are automatically broken if I give no performance today. That is in the current with Equity. I give me a chance to look things over and I'll be ready to make definite statements probably tomorrow."

Mr. Barbydt, the resident manager, yesterday tried to close for the use of another local theatre temporarily but was obliged to call off negotiations because he viewed the rent asked as excessive in the extreme. That a revised figure might be submitted today is not regarded as unlikely.

THEATRE USHERS HOLD ANNUAL DANCE

The ushers of H. P. Keith's Theatre held their 10th annual dance last evening at Associate hall, a large crowd attending the joyful occasion. During the evening the ushers of this week's bill at the theatre dropped in at the party to invited guests and participated in the merry-making. The dance was one of the most successful ever held by the ushers. The dance officers were as follows: John A. Doe, general manager; Harper E. Ryan, assistant general manager; John P. Ryan, floor director; Leo J. Mysko, assistant floor director; Walter J. Farrell, chief aid; and Joseph M. Farley, treasurer.

BANDITS ROB WEALTHY GOLFERS

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 4. Bandits armed in blue overalls swooped down on the Astoria golf club course near here yesterday in a newly painted red automobile, held up a foursome of wealthy business men at the sixth hole and motorized off across the fairways with $500 in currency gleaned from the players, according to the police.

Thomas Ricketts, Harry McStaye, and other Macdowell. Each part is well acted, with the splendid support of several Miss Griffith adds greatly to the success of the play and does not detract in the least from the "Star" in her various appearances. Miss Griffith makes 22 changes of wardrobe and is a star in herself, which should appeal greatly to the women-folk.

"You Are in Danger," while rather melodramatic, is interesting and teaches a lesson that is well worth learning.

There has been heard of the House of David except the new disputes concerning its long-headed baseball players, yet in this colony is a life so far apart from the ordinary one that it would take months for a visitor to become acclimated. In this colony is shown in the third feature "Inside the House of David."

MEIRIMACK SQUARE

Jackie Coogan in "Long Live the King" arrived at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday and lived up to the fondest expectations. The 20-year-old star does some of the simplest work of his career, making at the same time a radical departure in the type of role he portrays. In this picture Jackie is a royal prince, constantly surrounded with all the splendor for which the station calls. The picture effects are delightful and show that a lavish expenditure of funds was made by Metro in making this their first Coogan picture. Jack Coogan, Sr., supervised the picture which was directed by A. A. Seltzer. The story is taken from the adaptation by M. Gardner Sullivan and Eve Unsell of Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel of the same title.

That Jackie is a star actor is demonstrated throughout the film which marked with excellent qualities. Two audience appeared delighted and Jackie for a silverhead hero received quite an ovation. The picture is as good as one might expect from the pen of the author of "Seven Days," "The Bat" and "Spanish Love."

It is evident that the youthful star is more popular than ever. Right today, Jackie's place in the heart of the public is absolutely unique, not only in the intensity but in the universality of the adoration which he seems to inspire in persons of all ages and types. The boy prince of the cinema world carries a new notch for himself in this production. It is one of these film masterpieces that the every day theatregoer is bound to welcome and like.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

An elaborate dancing act featuring Edith Clasper, former musical comedy star and entitled "Variety," is in top position on the current program at B. F. Keith's Theatre. Miss Clasper is assisted by Paul O'Neal and Paul Yocan, two of the cleverest dancers on the vaudeville stage today. A most effective atmosphere is created by a black and white double stage setting and throughout the act of the dancers of all three are marvels of grace and agility. Miss Clasper appears individually and with both of her partners and the finale, featuring the trio in a splendid effort.

Moore and Freed offer "Spoonin' and Balloonin'," a novelty musical act introducing the starling harmonies in captivity, guitar and ukulele. They also draw music out of a cornet's saw, toy balloon and other articles not usually included in the musical giving class. In addition Moore and Freed are bang-up comedians and their act is fast moving and entertaining from beginning to end.

Way out of the ordinary is the presentation of the "Vestibule" who has controlled ship by Cy Seymour, who stands in the wings and sends out his living sparks to make the ship do as he wishes. The ship is on wheels. Its searchlight flashes and its keel bark as the radio waves are caught for mid-air an eye to work. It is a novelty sure enough and intensely interesting.

More dancing is provided by Harry Miller and Peggy Fears in "An Episode of Modern Youth" by Russell Black. Miss Fears is beautiful to look upon and the act is worth a second look.

Nan Traveline is a songstress with personality and the combination is hard to beat. She is assisted by Irving Gellers at the piano. The show is opened by Julius Furst who stands upside down on blocks and does stunts that none, anyone else would be content to do while standing in a normal position.

Bok in Acknowledging Notification Says Winner May Have Motives Investigated

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—Charles Herbert Levermore of New York, student of international affairs, writer and educator, is the author of plan 1169 and winner of the American peace prize, awarded by Edward W. Bok, of Philadelphia. His identity was revealed last night at a meeting in the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Philadelphia forum and the policy committee of the American peace award.

The plan was selected from 22,164 submitted to the committee on award as the best to preserve peace among the nations of the world. Details of the winning plan, which provides for American cooperation under certain reservations, with a modified League of Nations, without the United States becoming a member, for adherence to the world court with the Hughes reservation.

This Brockton Woman's Symptoms Are Typical of Influenza's After Effects

"It was in a very nervous, run-down condition after a severe attack of grippe," says Mrs. Mary O'Grady of No. 25 Bolton place, Brockton, Mass. "I was out of breath after a short walk, in fact even the slightest exertion brought on an aching feeling."

"My food did not agree with me and I was bothered with gas. I could not sleep at night because of sharp pains in my chest and back. The medicine given me did not help me and I had several months of illness. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a newspaper and decided that I would try the tonic treatment. By the time I had taken one box, I was stronger in every way and was encouraged by my improvement. I kept on with the pills and soon the pains in my chest and back left me and I could sleep. My digestion improved rapidly and I could eat without distress following my meals. I can truthfully say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most dependable tonic I have ever used and never felt a chance to praise them pass."

Two boxes, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale in every drug store or they will be sent direct, postpaid, on receipt of price, 45 cents per box.—Adv.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value their hair, color that beautiful dark shade of brown as well as its attractiveness, use only this out-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking, at any drug store for a bottle of "Wynol's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By increasing the gray hair disappears, but what delights you looks with Wynol's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Adv.

Dreco Relieves Kidney and Liver Trouble—Driving Away Gastritis and Constipation

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till the day is down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

Mr. Albert Wheeler, well known in Lowell and the vicinity says: "My stomach was in bad shape. Gas would form, causing the food to pile and causing belching and suffering. I felt bloated and aching from my stomach made me feel terrible."

"My liver and kidneys became infected, my system being charged by the poisonous backwash of constipation. Each day I felt worse. The suffering was unbearable, then I started taking Dreco."

tions, and for a commission of jurists to codify international law, were made public Jan. 7, but its author was known to only one person—a member of the policy committee.

Mr. Levermore has published several studies upon the general subject of world peace. He has been an instructor in various colleges and universities, including the University of California, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Adelphi college, Brooklyn, of which he was president for 18 years. He was born in Mansfield, Conn., in 1856, and was graduated from Yale in 1879. From 1913 to 1916 he was connected with the world peace foundation in Boston.

Since 1917 he has been secretary of the New York Peace society and in 1922 he acted as secretary of the newly formed American Association for International Co-operation and with other officers of that body, helped form the League of National Non-Partisan association last year.

John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, and one of the principal speakers at last night's meeting, disclosed the name of the winner of the award at the conclusion of his address and presented Mr. Levermore a check for $50,000, one-half of the prize. He will receive the other half provided his plan is endorsed by the United States senate or by a majority vote of the American people through a referendum being conducted by Mr. Bok's representatives.

Throughout the preliminary formalities the eyes of the vast audience were centered on the vacant chair placed on the stage for the winner and when Mr. Levermore who had been sitting behind Miss Esther Everett Lane, chairman of the policy committee, was introduced the audience arose and applauded for a full minute. Expressing his thanks for the honor accorded him, Mr. Levermore said he regarded it "as a trumpet call to service in the ranks for the establishment and maintenance of peace through justice under the law."

Melville E. Stone, counsel of The Associated Press, presided over the meeting. Other speakers included Miss Lane and Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war. A telegram giving the name of the winner was sent to Mr. Bok who is in Florida, and the following reply was read by Mr. Stone:

"Will you please convey my sincere condolences to the author of the American peace award winning plan and tell him I meant well. But what with the overwhelming publicity which will be his portion, to say nothing of the hundreds of circumstances of persons who will tell him how to spend the money, I do not envy him. The only enlightening experience I see ahead for him is that laboring under the delusion that he is a free born American citizen, he may have his personal motives investigated by a senate committee."

THREE CONVICTS KILLED

Men Who Escaped From Penitentiary Shot to Death by Prison Guards

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 5.—Battered with buckshot, the bodies of the three convicts who escaped from the penitentiary yesterday after killing a guard, were found in a hayrack on a farm five miles southeast of here. A dozen penitentiary guards found the fugitives huddled in the hayrack to protect themselves from the severe blizzard which had visited this vicinity several hours earlier. No sooner had the guards appeared than one of the trio opened fire with the revolver taken from the guard, Hart. The woman contained three bullets, and these were fired at the guards, who immediately returned the fire. The bodies of the convicts were loaded on a truck and returned to the penitentiary.

The three who were considered in the prison as "bad men" were: Frank DeLoe, serving 15 years for murder; Jack McCall, serving 10 years for robbery; and Miles Thomas, eight years on a burglary charge.

"THE SWEETHEART OF THE A. E. F."

Elise Janis, "The sweetheart of the A. E. F.," is to bring her back of tricks to the Auditorium next Thursday night, Feb. 14, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Janis, "the world's most popular entertainer," as she has been called for years, is certain to provide a real treat for the amusement lovers of Lowell. She never fails to score with all who attend her performances and is certain to evoke the usual admiration in Lowell.

At Stiermer's, where tickets are on sale, the advance sale is said to be large and Miss Janis is already assured of a large audience. The prices are regarded as the most reasonable of any of the season's big attractions. In order that folks will not run the chance of disappointment everybody is advised to get their tickets as soon as possible.

SAYS BOSTON'S NEEDS IGNORED

Mayor Curley Hits G. O. P. Representatives in Washington for Neglecting Hub

Favors Increase in Pay for 9000 Boston Firemen and Policemen

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—An increase of pay for 9000 city employees, firemen and policemen was the outstanding municipal promise of Mayor Curley in his inaugural address to the incoming city council yesterday.

Longest City Inaugural
The document, which he read, was the longest inaugural in the history of the city of Boston, comprising 72 printed pages containing about 20,000 words and in addition the mayor improvised about 1500 words additional.

He took plenty of time in his preliminary remarks which, while based on the municipal needs of Boston, were in reality a bitter attack upon the public representatives in Washington for their neglect of the interests of Boston.

"Despite the fact," he said, "that Massachusetts is officially represented in the highest and most influential offices of the nation and that industry and commerce are not matters of partisan politics, her interests are persistently ignored and neglected by the national administration, they are not accorded the aid and consideration the commonwealth has the right to expect; and the growth and expansion of the most favorably situated seaport on the North Atlantic coast are retarded."

Says Boston's Needs Ignored

"Massachusetts," said the mayor, "appears to be fat and full of federal honors and lean and empty of federal influence; persistent and aggressive 'blues' compel attention to the demands of their constituents, while Massachusetts, in the seats of the mighty is step by step and productive only of Dead Sea fruit."

"We have a right to expect a different character of treatment, and one that will write its results in industry and commerce."

"Boston for the upkeep of its harbor and its subsidiary waters hardly receives as much in the way of Philadelphia, an inland river port, receives in one and much of the export trade of the middle and northwestern states, whose natural flow is through Boston, is deflected to less desirable ports by the discriminatory railroad rates of a hostile interstate commerce commission."

"Faith in Boston"
The current depression and slowing down in our great Massachusetts industries bear an intimate relation to these conditions, and the lack of foreign markets that absorb surplus products and stimulate work and wages are traceable to the same congressional indifference to our industrial life. It would appear to be the duty of our citizens regardless of all personal political predilections, to insist that our representatives in congress devote more of their time and talent to the 'solid and better' interests of the commonwealth, and less to fantastic political theories and alien concerns."

The history and achievement of the administration in the past year were recited and the mayor ended with the satisfactory information that the city will close its books for the year with very known liability paid and a substantial cash surplus.

Before the ceremonies city officials met in Mayor Curley's office. Among the first to arrive was the venerable Thomas N. Hart, former mayor of Boston, now in the 86th year, and former Mayor Matthews, whose presence was commented upon in view of the attacks Mayor Curley had upon him in reference to the Stuart street widening. Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Mayor Curley's Boston pal, was also there.

AMERICAN LEGION POST

Local Legionnaires Are Ready to Debate Question of Adjusted Compensation

Members of Lowell post No. 87, American Legion, are ready to take the question of adjusted compensation and its relation to the Mellon tax plan with any representative individual or organization in Lowell. A resolution to this effect was passed at a meeting of the post last evening.

Other matters coming up for debate and decision included resolutions meeting last evening, included resolutions concerning the present by-laws and constitution. Comrade George Walsh was appointed color sergeant.

Comrade James E. O'Donoghue asked the members to stand in silent tribute to the memory of the former commander-in-chief, the late President Wilson. A page of the post records will be devoted to his memory and the post standard draped for 30 days.

During the discussion on the bonus question, the debate grew lively, the problem being to find some way in which the veterans may present their views before the public in the best possible form so all will understand the correct motives of the world war veterans in their present campaign for adjusted compensation.

Resolutions were adopted and will be sent to Congressman Rogers and Senators Walsh and Lodge, declaring that Lowell post No. 87, A. L., stands as it has stood from the beginning, in favor of adjusted compensation.

RUTH GETS $52,000 A YEAR, CONTRACT HAS THREE YEARS TO RUN

Babe Won "Shake" for $10,000 Bonus—Yankees Refuse to Include Ward in Trade for Eddie Collins—American League Meeting in Boston Today

NEW YORK, February 5.—Habe Ruth contract with the New York Yankees. This year's salary was set at an actual figure of $25,000. The club says today is the result of the club's decision to exercise the two-year option it received when the home-run king signed a three-year contract last year. The new figures, the Babe's salary will be a quarter of a million for the five-year period, including barnstorming, his earnings

My nearly double that amount. I'm worth $250,000, and I must have had $100,000 more to get to the conference between Ruth and Col. L. Huston, former part owner of the Yankees, to which the contract was signed. I must have taken $150,000 in his yearly salary. Baby said:

"Now, I ought to have $10,000 for this deal."

Col. Huston demurred at first, but finally suggested that they "shook" for it. They pulled out a pair of dice and Ruth won $10,000. The deal was for the $10,000 be distributed at the rate of $2000 annually, thus practically doubling the salary to $22,000.

Ruth was a very good manager. He designed to keep Ruth on the straight and narrow path of good conduct. Unfortunately, however, he was not as successful. He was not as successful as the negotiations will die right there. However, chance may change his mind and select one of the players to be the pitcher. I don't know, we said we would trade any Yankees excepting Ruth, Wade, Fungo and Jones. I wouldn't trade any of them for a dollar. That statement, but insofar as a deal for Collins goes, it stands.

Furthermore, if the Sox want one of our pitchers in the deal, they will have to give me $10,000. I don't matter we declined to take Charles Robertson in such a deal and held out for $20,000. I don't know if we are to take Robertson. Chance has a wide range of material to pick from and we Yanks Refuse to Trade Mass.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Eddie Collins, who has captivated around the keystone sack with high percentages for the Yankee White Sox for years, will not trade for the Boston Red Sox pitcher, Babe Ruth, according to reports. The New York Yankees are concerned. The Yankees have been negotiating to acquire the services of Collins, but last

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PRINCIPAL TRIES HAND AS EDITOR

Worthen Street School Head Launches New Magazine to Spread Americanism—Explains Urge Which Brought About His Worthy Initial Attempt

The term of a combined progressive and patriotic idea has just been revealed in an unobtrusive quarter of Lowell's Greek community.

The proprietor, starting with a single-headed magazine plan of publicity for which he wants no personal profit, aims to advance the physical and mental well-being of all members of the Greek-speaking race in this city, the country and abroad. He seeks also to inculcate greater love for ancient and modern Greek ideals among all men, women and children of the Greek race who reside under the Stars and Stripes. He urges competitors, both heartily adhering to the land of their adoption and supporting it in all its activities of freedom and compassion, not to forget the country of their fathers—the homeland, Greece.

The name of the man who would arouse to greater civic and patriotic endeavor the Greeks of Lowell and all other American cities and hamlets, where native of Greece have come in search for havens of new freedom, happiness and peace, is Alexander Georgiadis, D.S.M., who for the past two years has quietly but very effectively presided over the destinies of the Greek parochial school on Worthen street and Broadway. At this school today, more than 25 boys and girls are learning to become Americans—American citizens.

In all that the meaning and the title imply.

Native of Calamata, Greece, graduate of the world-famed Athens university, veteran of the World war, serving in the Greek army, and formerly a captain on the world's best-sailed sailing vessel, the Yuthi, Mr. Georgiadis, now residing in Davy Jones' locker—this Worthen Street school principal is surging with ambition and patriotism, eager to spread his gospel to not only the byways of his home city, but to the far corners of the world.

The parochial school leader is also the proudly established editor and publisher of a brand new monthly magazine, "Athens," which is printed in this city. It is thick typographical matter, and written entirely by Professor Georgiadis, who attends to the providing of all material, editing, proof-reading, making-up, etc., and takes pardonable pride in the fruits of his initial publishing efforts in Lowell.

Just how a Lowell school principal can find time to compose and arrange for the publication of a monthly magazine of some 16 pages, may puzzle some folks, but not Principal Georgiadis. Today, on the first floor of the Greek parochial school on Worthen street, Mr. Georgiadis told a Sun reporter some of his aims and dreams.

"Athens" is a well-printed magazine of good, thick leaves and excellent type for the most part in Greek characters. It is about 8x12 inches in size, with heavy covers and well designed frontispieces.

Principal Georgiadis' strange rooves, parts of the world, on land and sea, led him to strive for some outlet for his stored-up emotions that all his time, he has had apart from the world at times, has had time to ponder and learn how "the other half lives."

He is proud of his home land—Greece.

He has studied her ancient and modern history, delved into Greek deeds of world famous character and origin. He is proud of his fatherland, yet vigorously patriotic in his American ideals.

So anxious is he to show his love for the country of his adoption, that he desires to aid his Greek brothers and sisters who are also here, scattered all over the U. S. A., in 142 cities and towns more than 600,000 Greek men, women and children and about 17,000 of their right here in Lowell.

Because he believes that Greek-speaking citizens of America, far from home, need a magazine that will extend to them good cheer and comforting information, advice and instructions on methods of living in America, Principal Georgiadis has begun the publication of a magazine solely in the interests of the Greek race. Every article, poem and piece of brotherly advice contained therein is printed in clear Greek type so all may read and digest it.

Mr. Georgiadis said today: "The matter of monetary profit does not enter into my publishing undertaking at all. I am anxious to edit a publication that shall be read all over the world by Greek men, women and children. I want to provide articles that will improve the moral character of the members of our race, wherever they are. I am anxious to spread the principles of Americanism and patriotism to my brothers and sisters in the children also, just as I want the members of the Greek race to remember the land and the fathers from which they sprang."

The school principal explained that his subject matters to be printed in the common issues of the "Athens" would cover world-wide topics of national and international import. In the first number just issued and already being widely read in New England, Greek-speaking circles, there are news articles covering financial conditions in Sweden, where the krona today is nearly on a par with the American dollar. Sweden's prosperity has been marked since the World war. Another article explains and discusses a recent study that, taking Principal Georgiadis' time outside of his school and publishing duties at the present time.

Other articles in the first number of "Athens" refer to morality and character; there is a survey of some important political and social happenings that have attracted attention in Greece, Turkey, Italy, Sweden and France. A special article quotes statistics from French authorities, prophesying that the decline of the birth rate in France at the present time indicates that the end of the war is not far off.

Principal Georgiadis' magazine is a well-printed magazine of good, thick leaves and excellent type for the most part in Greek characters. It is about 8x12 inches in size, with heavy covers and well designed frontispieces.

Principal Georgiadis' strange rooves, parts of the world, on land and sea, led him to strive for some outlet for his stored-up emotions that all his time, he has had apart from the world at times, has had time to ponder and learn how "the other half lives."

SMITH FOR PRESIDENT

National Campaign to Obtain Democratic Nomination for New York Governor

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A national campaign to obtain the democratic presidential nomination for Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, was launched today by the Alfred E. Smith for President National club.

The room was pronounced after a conference of the executive committee, whose chairman is Mrs. John Marshall Gallagher, New York's collector of city revenue. Mrs. Gallagher said the committee had acted on its own initiative and had not consulted the governor. James McKimsey, identified with the democratic national committee in the Cox campaign, has been placed in charge of national headquarters at Hotel McAlpin.

According to a statement issued by Mrs. Gallagher, six states were represented at last night's conference—New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New Jersey. Mrs. Gallagher was named chairman of the committee to wait upon Governor Smith for his endorsement of the club's campaign plans.

CORNCOB PIPE USED AS MURDER WEAPON

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—John Hunkala, about 35, of Maynard, was arraigned in district court yesterday, charged with the murder of John Phillips, about 45, also of Maynard, who died Saturday, by striking the stem of a corncob pipe into his eye during an argument the week before.

Hunkala pleaded not guilty to the charge. Judge Prescott Keyes held him without bail for a hearing Feb. 14. Hunkala was committed to East Cambridge jail to await his trial.

Hunkala had been in court last week charged with assault and battery, but upon the death of Phillips, Hunkala was removed by Deputy Chief John Connors of the Maynard police, Sunday, and the charge was changed from assault and battery to murder in court yesterday.

According to the police, Hunkala and Phillips were walking along Butler street in Maynard, both intoxicated. An argument arose. During the dispute, it is alleged that Hunkala took a corncob pipe from his mouth and stuck it in Phillips' eye.

Phillips went to bed. When he awoke, he went to a doctor, who took two stitches in a cut under his eye. Later Phillips, because of the intense pain, visited another doctor, who advised that he must have the eye and ear removed. He was taken to a hospital and a corncob pipe was found in the eye.

This was removed through an operation, but Phillips died.

BOILED VEGETABLES.

Boiled or dehydrated vegetables, whether home-cured or commercially prepared, have many delicious possibilities.

They have none of their natural sweetness in the process of drying. These are a good way of preparing dried vegetables. They are served for a long time in cold water or in a rich cream sauce. They are also served for a long time in cold water or in a rich cream sauce.

DEILED CORN.

Dried corn can be used just as cornmeal and has a rich sort of flavor. It is served for a long time in cold water or in a rich cream sauce.

Baked Spinach.

Take one cup of dehydrated spinach, to which add one cup of cream and one cup of butter. Bake for one hour.

DOES winter find you lame, stiff and aching—worried all day long with nagging backache and sharp, rheumatic twinges? Do you feel worn-out, nervous and dispirited—older and slower than you should? Then you should be giving some attention to your kidneys. These wonderful little sponges filter every drop of blood in the body. But winter's colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys, and weak kidneys allow poisons to accumulate in the life-giving blood, upsetting the whole bodily machinery. Then comes lameness, soreness and stiffness; daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities. One feels constantly tired, nervous, depressed and utterly miserable. Don't risk neglect! Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are endorsed here at home. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Lowell Folks Found Relief:

Miss Sophia H. Bowen, 200 Middlesex St., says: "My back was lame and weak and I felt all out of sorts. My kidneys were badly disordered and I had dizzy spells, too. I got Doan's Pills at Liegatt's Drug store and they rid me of the trouble. I have had no return of it since."

F. O. Townsend, city fireman, 11 Somerset St., says: "My back was lame and sore and when I stooped knife-like pains made it hard to straighten. My kidneys acted too frequently and I never rested well at night. I got Doan's Pills and they entirely rid me of the attack."

Mrs. W. Speed, 7 La Grange Ct., says: "I could hardly straighten when I stooped on account of the terrible lameness in my back. My kidneys acted too frequently and I suffered terrible pains in my head. I used Doan's Pills and they cured me of all the symptoms." (Statement given November 16, 1921. On October 20, 1923, Mrs. Speed said: "I have had no trouble with my kidneys since Doan's Pills cured me.")

All Worn Out This Winter?

DOES winter find you lame, stiff and aching—worried all day long with nagging backache and sharp, rheumatic twinges? Do you feel worn-out, nervous and dispirited—older and slower than you should? Then you should be giving some attention to your kidneys. These wonderful little sponges filter every drop of blood in the body. But winter's colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys, and weak kidneys allow poisons to accumulate in the life-giving blood, upsetting the whole bodily machinery. Then comes lameness, soreness and stiffness; daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and distressing kidney irregularities. One feels constantly tired, nervous, depressed and utterly miserable. Don't risk neglect! Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are endorsed here at home. Ask your neighbor!

Miss Sophia H. Bowen, 200 Middlesex St., says: "My back was lame and weak and I felt all out of sorts. My kidneys were badly disordered and I had dizzy spells, too. I got Doan's Pills at Liegatt's Drug store and they rid me of the trouble. I have had no return of it since."

F. O. Townsend, city fireman, 11 Somerset St., says: "My back was lame and sore and when I stooped knife-like pains made it hard to straighten. My kidneys acted too frequently and I never rested well at night. I got Doan's Pills and they entirely rid me of the attack."

Mrs. W. Speed, 7 La Grange Ct., says: "I could hardly straighten when I stooped on account of the terrible lameness in my back. My kidneys acted too frequently and I suffered terrible pains in my head. I used Doan's Pills and they cured me of all the symptoms." (Statement given November 16, 1921. On October 20, 1923, Mrs. Speed said: "I have had no trouble with my kidneys since Doan's Pills cured me.")

ATTACKS PRES. OREGON BRUTAL MURDER OF CONCORD, N. H. MAN

Has Created Hatred of U. S. In Mexico, According to Gustavo Arce

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—President Obregon has created hatred of the United States in Mexico because of the prevailing belief among Mexicans that he is attempting to deliver the republic into the hands of this country, according to Gustavo Arce, former president of the commission of finance of the Mexican chamber of deputies, who arrived here yesterday on an unannounced mission for Adolfo de la Huerta, the revolutionary leader.

Obregon is creating a new and dangerous problem between Mexico and the United States, and is ruining friendly relations between the two countries," said Mr. Arce. "Many Mexicans believe Obregon, when he puts himself in desperate straits, will provoke armed intervention by the United States to save his life. This fear of the delivery of Mexico to this country is doing more than anything else to swell the ranks of the revolutionists under de la Huerta."

The revolution is growing in strength every day," Mr. Arce added. "The rebels have gained absolute control of the states of Yucatan, Chiapas, Tabasco, Campeche, Vera Cruz, Michoacan, Jalisco, Nayarit, Guerrero and Sinaloa."

Obregon himself has been trapped up in Queretaro and it is not true, that his troops are near Vera Cruz or have any chance of taking that port."

NORWAY TAKES HONORS IN WINTER SPORTS

CHAMONIX, Feb. 4.—(U. P.) The Associated Press Norway carried off first honors in the 1924 Olympic winter sports. The official number of points tallied by the winner will not be known until late tonight and perhaps not until tomorrow as the jury must figure out the intricate system of point allowances. However, with four men placed in the first six in the distance ski jump and a like number in the combined race there is no possible claim for Norway to lose. It is only a question of how many points they can finish ahead of Finland, their main competitor.

LAWRENCE TAXI DRIVER INJURED

LAWRENCE, Feb. 4.—(U. P.) Sheriff York, 22, a Texas driver, was seriously injured today when his automobile ran into another automobile and overturned on the side of an electric car. The car was traveling and had just been in the driveway but at the Lawrence General Hospital. The accident happened according to all reports, when York tried to pass between the other car and the electric car.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 4.—While county and city authorities were investigating today that no tangible clues were being followed in the investigation of the brutal murder of Moses Goldberg, 42, Concord clothing merchant today he admitted that several Concord boys had been excited during their investigations and that some remained to be eliminated. Goldberg was beaten to death and probably robbed Saturday night.

URGE HEARING FOR DENBY

BETHLEHEM, Feb. 4.—A telegram to Senator James Chandler and Woodbridge S. Ferris of Michigan, friend of Denby, then 229 business and professional men of Bethlehem, expressing their confidence in the ability, honesty and integrity of Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby, and urging that he be given a fair, deliberate and impartial hearing with full opportunity to meet and answer charges brought against him in connection with the granting of oil leases, has been sent to Washington.

The telegram urged the two Michigan senators to exert their influence in getting the senate and investigating committee to grant the navy secretary a hearing in order that he may meet the charges of his accusers.

GIVEN UNTIL FRIDAY TO MAKE RESTITUTION

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—Milton A. Stone, a Chicago lawyer, formerly of Boston, and Clyde Colt of New York, were given until Friday next to make restitution in the sum of $1000 each by Judge Morton in the federal court today. The men some time ago pleaded not guilty to indictments for using the mails to defraud in connection with the reorganization of the bankrupt Maine Fisheries Corporation into a concern to be known as the North Shore Fish Corporation. They have already made some restitution.

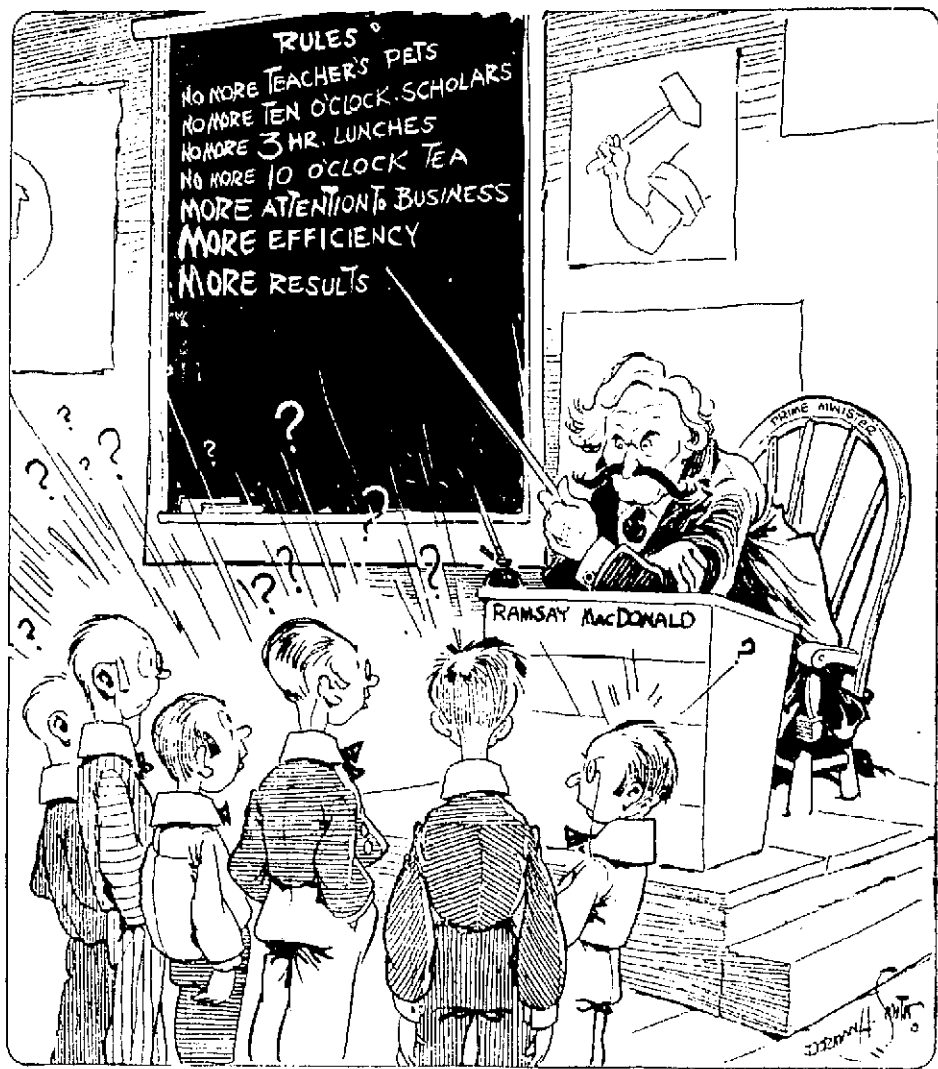

Judge Morton, in commenting on the circulars sent out by the defendants, said that this was "not a thorough fraud but that it was an unpardonable lie to circulate incorrect statements regarding the property of a corporation in order to raise money."

Edward H. Bridgman, of Bath, Me., former county attorney, and Orlando H. Lane of Bath, were arrested with Stone and Colt but were not indicted and the complaints against them were not pressed.

TERMINELLO SENTENCED
CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 4.—Victor Terminello of Revere was sentenced to the state prison for from five to seven years in the superior criminal court today for assault with intent to murder George A. MOVE FOR REPEAL OF VOLSTEAD ACT

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—The repeal of the Volstead act, upon the ground that it has proved itself a complete failure, and the liberalization of the liquor laws so as to permit the licensed sale of light wines and beers, form the primary objects of the recently organized National America League, of which Robert W. White is president and J. C. Heery of Washington is acting as general organizer. Mr. Heery has appointed J. E. Izor of this city as the local organizer of the league; to be in charge of a group of some 30 organizers for the general territory in and around Boston, with headquarters in the Little Building.

The National America League is, in the words of its president, an organization of "very average citizens, organized to encourage 100 per cent Americanism, to promote respect for law, to encourage the enactment of good and statesmanlike legislation and to discourage that of ill-considered legislation; to resist and promote the enforcement of the law; to support and encourage public officials in carrying out the principles of American institutions and of the constitution of the United States."

Among the reasons cited by the National America League for repeal of the Volstead act are the following: "The enforcement lacks the support of a majority of the American people. It is increasingly corrupting the morals of the people in making them law-breakers. It has resulted in widespread corruption and bribery of government officials."

"It is teaching young girls and boys to indulge secretly in alcoholic stimulants. It forbids pure beer and wine and substitutes dangerous poisons. It is daily increasing the number of victims of narcotic drugs, dope fiends, and has placed the stigma of moral weakness on the entire population."

TWO FIRES IN BLOCK

One Fireman Injured and Property Damage Set at $25,000 in Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 5.—One fireman was injured and property damage estimated at $25,000 was done early this morning in two fires, both of which occurred in the Raymond block in the downtown section of this city, within three hours of each other.

Henry Smith, houseman, was rushed to the Rhode Island hospital suffering from deep gashes in his left arm.

WORK OF THE SALVATION ARMY

One of the most prosperous branches of work carried on by the Salvation Army is amongst its young people, and while its work among the adult members of the families is increasing efforts to save the young. Throughout the whole of the United States, next Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to young people's work and special plans are being made by the local corps for the annual event. Next Sunday afternoon in the local hall on Appleton street there will be a dedication service, also some of the young people will be taken in as junior members of the local, and on Monday evening a program of interesting items will be given by the younger people, and at the close there will be the distribution of prizes for attendance at the Sunday school during the past year. The local work is carried on under the supervision of Mr. Alfred Bell, and Miss Elizabeth Gennell is the young people's treasurer, both of whom are energetic workers among the young.

TAXICAB HIT TROLLEY, TWO FATALLY INJURED

ARLINGTON, Feb. 5.—Two persons were probably fatally injured when a taxicab crashed into a one-man trolley car on Myrtle street today. Miss Genevieve R. Hickey of Belmont, a passenger in the taxicab, and William O'Connell of Arlington, its driver, sustained fractured skulls. No one on the trolley car was hurt. The motorman was William E. Gray of Melrose.

SOUTH END CLUB

The South End club which was entirely burned out of its quarters in yesterday afternoon's disastrous fire, has secured a temporary meeting place on the third floor of the Hennessy building in Central street, just this side of Middlesex street. A hall there will be used until permanent quarters again are available.

GENERAL RELAXATION OF TENSION IN EUROPE

GENEVA, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—General relaxation of tension is noticeable all over Europe, said Norman H. Davis, former American assistant secretary of state, in opening today the first public meeting of the League of Nations neutral commission to investigate the Memel controversy of which he is president.

Mr. Davis added that he had been impressed by observation that "in one zone of dispute after another the spirit of compromise is giving place to an enlightened spirit of conciliation and mutual concession."

The Memel question involves the interests of Poland and Lithuania in the Memel territory on the Baltic, control of which is vested in Lithuania, but in which important maritime rights asserted by Poland are in controversy.

Following the discussion the members of the club went on record as opposed to the proposed site of a district court building and voted to circulate petitions objecting to the Gorham street location for the district court throughout the South End section of the city.

OPPOSED TO PROPOSED COURT HOUSE SITE

Opposition to the erection of a district court building near the present county court house building in Gorham street was voiced by members of the South End club at a meeting Sunday.

The majority of the members of the club are residents of the Gorham street section and they are determined to leave no stone unturned to keep the district court building out of that particular section of the city.

Members of the club and Rep. Thos. J. Carbett spoke in opposition to the plan and based their objections mainly on the fact that if such a building is erected the result will be that all prisoners will be transported there from the police station, past several churches and schools, several times a day. This, the members of the club feel, would exert a bad influence on the school children and would be a source of annoyance to attendants at week-day church services as well.

INCLUDED IN WINTER CARNIVAL PROGRAM

Events for the students of the Junior high schools of the city will be included in the program followed for the winter carnival tomorrow and day after. The events for the boys will be skijoring, tunnel ball on snowshoes and tug of war, while the girls will have snowshoe races, canoe ball and races sliding in dishpans.

Fire in High Street

Fire of undetermined origin broke out early this morning in the attic of a house at 254 High street occupied by Police Officer Edward Hill. A telephone alarm was sent in to the Central fire station at 6:24 o'clock and a bell alarm from box 80 followed two minutes later.

The fire evidently started in an old bureau stored in the attic but before the firemen arrived it had spread into the wall partitions. Considerable chopping had to be done before the fire in the partitions could be extinguished. The result was sounded at 7 o'clock.

No Trace of Priest's Slayer

A little more than two hours later without recovering consciousness.

Boys Witnessed Shooting

The shooting occurred within a stone's throw of the Lyric theatre in front of which a large crowd was gathered, and about four blocks from the church and rectory. Strangers to 535, none of the throng crowd or others on the street, with the exception of two boys, saw the shooting. From the two boys, Ralph Norrillo and Ralph Esposito, the police obtained the only description they have obtained of the murderer of the shooting. The boys say a man was walking with the crowd and they were about to cross High street, which intersects Main, the unknown stopped on one side, pulled the revolver, fired the shot and fled up High street. He is described as about five feet, six inches in height, of slim build, and wearing a blue overcoat and cap. These crowd quickly gathered about the prostrate priest, and he was hurried to the hospital by the police. No one among the crowd had seen the shooting, being attracted by the report of the gun, the police say.

EAGLES' NOTICE

The next regular meeting of Lowell Area will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, at Eagles' hall, at 8 o'clock. D. G. W. President James H. Gallagher of Revue, Mass., will be our guest at this meeting.

TALKS SELF INTO JAIL

Just like a woman! Anna J. Kearns, 21, "blipper bandit," walked into a Cleveland drug store, pointed a shiny little automatic at the male attendant and proceeded to help herself to the cash register's contents. Five days later she phoned to tell him how sorry she was. That proved her undoing, for police tracing the source of the call, arrested her as she left a pay station. Anna told detectives unemployment and impending hunger drove her to it. Just another case of a small-town girl getting on on the wrong track in a big city, the officers say.

BROWER FAILS TO APPEAR BEFORE OIL COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (U. P.)—A sensational episode took place this morning at the meeting of the Senate oil committee. Senator Fingerhede, head of a Cleveland, Ohio, stock broker firm, was not present today in response to his name when it was called. No other witnesses for the government were today and he was the first witness of the day. All hands were in a state of surprise. The day was a surprise.

The government was accompanied by the former member of the Washington National Oil Company, who appeared at the meeting. Later he held a press conference in the Senate chamber.

The Federal Trade commission, who already are conducting an examination of the books of W. H. Hides & Co., Washington banker and broker, is concerned.

Books of the association of petroleum products of Mexico and the national association for the protection of consumers in Mexico, also are under the committee's eye. In this connection, it reports that Hides & Co. has been buying and selling in Los Angeles, New York and John T. Kane, former publisher of national commodity magazine, also has been summoned for the first of his examination has been disclosed. He was in Miami, Fla., when the subpoena was served.

IN MEXICO
Rear Admiral S. E. Kettle is appearing in the role of Lord Sumner before an undersea court sitting at the bottom and starting on his inquiries. He commands a fleet of vessels ordered to Vera Cruz with the idea of breaking up the blockade on oil ports.

According to the latest report of the city board of health, New Orleans is rushing itself to death, both in business and pleasure. The report also shows that we eat more bananas than any other community, population considered.

Somebody in New Orleans is making a fortune on the races. But those so far discovered gathering in the col are blind or deformed.

When the race track opened for the winter season, the Louisiana commission for the blind got permission for eight blind men to sell programs with in the track. These eight are selling more programs than all of the balance of the big boys combined.

A hunchback man stands outside the Fair grounds gates and permits those who intend to woo the ponies to run his hump. He is always splendidly repaid. The idiot man says those who bow to the horses think it brings good luck to buy programs from them.

The Vieux Carre, old French quarter of New Orleans, is crowded with artists this winter. Some of them have pretty tough shelling. There is not any too much property in the Latin quarter, but artists are sometimes business.

When Eleanor Duse, the world famous queen of tragedy, visited New Orleans, crayoned and autographed portraits of her quickly made their appearance. The Viny Carre artist had made sketches of the tragedienne and copied her signature. These were sold at a good price.

Sweet potato pie made as only a French chef can make it, is the white dessert in New Orleans this winter. The recent cold spell nipped all of the

GRAND OPERA COMPANY

Big Treat in Store for Those Who Hear Impresario of the San Carlo

When the famous San Carlo Grand Opera company comes to Lowell local opera patrons who expect to be present at the Auditorium where this organization is to be presented in the opera "Madame Butterfly" on Feb. 12, will be agreeably surprised to discover that Portia Gallo, well known inpressario of the San Carlo, in this year offering a sumptuous operatic fare, is passing by far anything he has ever attempted before. His artists are absolutely first class, his orchestra is enlarged and more tuneful than ever; he has added much beautiful new scenery, with many sets of unusual magnificence and elaborate dimensions; he has gone to extra pains and expense to furnish brilliant and colorful costumes, importing many of these from the countries which figure in the plots of the operas they are used in. For instance, the "Madame Butterfly" costumes were personally selected in Japan by the celebrated Japanese prima donna Tamaki Kira, while the "La Boheme" "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" costumes were chosen in France and Italy last summer by Mr. Gallo himself. Such careful forethought insures absolute authenticity in the performances. Yet in spite of all this new splendor, Mr. Gallo hasn't raised his price of admission one cent. This is puregoing generosity to the masses, with a vengeance. And it is probably the explanation why his new "committee of one hundred," composed of many of the most prominent and influential New York and national civic leaders known to Who's Who, is so solidly behind him.

All this was noted by your correspondent during a recent audience of the brilliant New York season of the San Carlo at the Century theatre, the principal opera house opposite Central Park, which is yearly becoming more and more famous the country over as a unique institution of grand opera in America, due to the remarkable work done by the San Carlo there.

TALKED ON ETHICS
OF SALESMANSHIP

The ethics of salesmanship was the topic of Edward J. Conroy, of the Lowell Light Co. in speaking at the N.M.A. last night before the salesmanship class. Under R. P. Howe and T. R. Williams of the association staff the junior members of the N.A. are to have a salesmanship contest in securing subscriptions for the magazine called "Salesmen Men" and devoted to "N.A. activities."

Six teams of juniors made up last night follow:

Annie Bonadetti, manager, with Roy Holmes and Livingston Louast; James R. Barrett, manager, with Walter Myers and Roy McGowan; James A. Johnston, manager, with Warren Carson and Arthur Keaton; Ralph Jones, manager, with Harold Williams and Richard H. Lombard; Abel M. Gibson, manager, with Roy Slack and Donald Lombard; Alton R. Powers, manager, with Alan Atkinson and Howard Crosby; Louis J. Seneca, manager, with Charles S. Winslow and Arnold Bowser; Francis A. Clarke, manager, with Arthur Loman and Ralph Benson; Walter J. L'Esperance, manager, with Carl E. Butler and Donald Hill.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

The Women's auxiliary of the American Legion held its regular meeting last evening in the rooms at Memorial hall, with Mrs. J. M. Usher presiding. A report was read by Mrs. Edward McBurnett of the recent county council meeting in Boston. Discussion was held on the various ways in which the auxiliary could be of help to ex-service men.

CHELMSFORD VOTERS
ELECT OFFICERS

More than 1000 Chelmsford voters flocked to the polls yesterday to choose new town officers for the coming year, great interest being manifested in several hot contests bordering on the political, with personal animosities predominating.

In the ballot fight for the office of assessor, William J. Quigley defeated his lively opponent, James P. Dunnigan, a former assessor, by a margin of 24 votes. The Quigley vote totals were 707. Dunnigan received 683.

The school committee contest resulted in a win for Charles H. Crouch, who received 672 votes to his opponents, McAdams 520 and Bruce 178. Elphinst H. Brown won over Abbot L. Emery in the fight for membership on the board of health, receiving 352 votes to Emery's 453.

REMONSTRANTS TO
STABLE PETITION

The board of health yesterday afternoon gave a hearing on a petition of A. G. Titus to maintain a stable for three horses and a cow at 225 Branch street. After hearing evidence and listening to two remonstrants the board took the matter under advisement and will hold it up pending a view of the premises.

Mr. Titus, speaking in favor of his petition, said he has three trotting horses and a cow in the stable at present, but plans to dispose of the cow within a few days. He told the board members he is using every precaution to keep the place sanitary. The remonstrants were two families who live in a tenement house next door. They objected to odors which come from the stable and the noise of the horses at night.

WESTFORD TOWN
MEETING MONDAY

Annual town meeting will take place in Westford, Monday, Feb. 11, the polls being opened at 8 a. m. and closed at 4 p. m. There are 224 voters in the town, many new names being added at the recent registration meetings.

Frank L. Furbush is opposed for selectman by Fred R. Blodgett. There are three aspirants for school committee—Arthur G. Hibbith, Martha G.

Whiting and George P. White. Three citizens also aspire to the clerk's office of course—John C. Walker, William L. Wall and John Sullivan. Several candidates will run on tickets, it is said. The town warrant contains 65 articles.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS
WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and suffers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little liquidated Manganin at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than liquidated Manganin and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of painful pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of liquidated Manganin from any reliable drug store. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the liquidated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat." Adv.

LEVERMORE WINS BOK PEACE PRIZE

New York Writer and Educator Receives $50,000
Check in Philadelphia

Bok in Acknowledging Notification Says Winner May Have Motives Investigated

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5. Charles Herbert Levermore of New York, student of international affairs, writer and educator, is the author of plan 1493 and winner of the American peace prize, awarded by Edward W. Bok, of Philadelphia. His identity was revealed last night at a meeting in the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Philadelphia forum and the policy committee of the American peace award.

The plan was selected from 22,165 submitted to the committee on award as the best to preserve peace among the nations of the world. Details of the winning plan, which provides for American cooperation under certain restrictions, with a modified League of Nations, without the United States becoming a member, for adherence to the world court with the Hughes reservation.

INDIGESTION FOLLOWS GRIP

This Brockton Woman's Symptoms Are Typical of Influenza's After Effects

"I was in a very bad way, with indigestion after a severe attack of grippe," says Mrs. Mary O'Leary of No. 24 Boston place, Brockton, Mass. "I was out of breath after a short walk, in fact even the slightest exertion brought on an out of breath feeling."

"My food did not agree with me and I was bothered with gas. I could not sleep at night because of sharp pains in my chest and back. The indigestion even made me feel nervous. I had several months of illness. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a newspaper and decided that I would try the tonic. By the time I had taken one box I was stronger and very well, and was encouraged by my improvement. I kept on with the pills and soon the pains in my chest and back left me and I could sleep. My digestion improved and I could eat without distress. Following my meals, I can truthfully say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most dependable tonic I have ever used and never let a chance to praise them pass by."

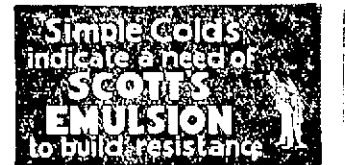

Two boxes, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale in every drug store, or they will be sent direct, postpaid, on receipt of price for each box, 60c. Ad.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it falls, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value their hair, and who desire a dark shade of hair, which is so attractive, use only this medicine.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking, at any drug store, for a bottle of "Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so quickly, that nobody can tell it has been applied. When you get a bottle of this soft, fresh, white, and draw this through your hair, taking care, small strands at a time. Do not use the hair change, but what it does is to take away the scales which cover the hair, and which keep it from growing. It is the hair after a few applications, that the hair, back, the face and neck, and gives it an appearance of abundance. Ad.

THE BEST OF ALL MEDICINES, SAYS LOWELL MAN

Draco Relieves Kidney and Liver Trouble—Driving Away Gastritis and Constipation

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait until they are down to the point of actual starvation. A stomach disorder leads to a host of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are all affected with the stomach and each becomes deranged.

Mr. Albert Wheeler, well known in Lowell and the vicinity says: "My stomach was in bad shape. It was giving me the food I ate and causing belching and suffering. I felt bloated and had to move from my stomach. I had to take a trip."

"My liver and kidneys became affected, my system being clogged by the poisonous backwash of constipation. Each day I felt worse. The suffering was unbearable until I started taking Draco."

tion, and for a commission of jurists to codify international law, were made public Jan. 7, but its author was known to only one person—a member of the policy committee.

Mr. Levermore has published several studies upon the general subject of world peace. He has been an instructor in various colleges and universities, including the University of California, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Adelphi College, Brooklyn, of which he was president for 18 years. He was born in Mansfield, Conn., in 1856, and was graduated from Yale in 1879. From 1912 to 1916 he was connected with the world peace foundation in Boston.

Since 1917 he has been secretary of the New York Peace society and in 1922 he acted as secretary of the newly formed American Association for International Co-operation and with other officers of that body, helped form the League of National Non-Partisan association last year.

John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, and one of the principal speakers at last night's meeting, disclosed the name of the winner of the award at the conclusion of his address and presented Mr. Levermore a check for $50,000, one-half of the prize. He will receive the other half provided his plan is endorsed by the United States senate or by a majority vote of the American people through a referendum being conducted by Mr. Bok's representatives.

Throughout the preliminary formalities the eyes of the vast audience were centered on the vacant chair placed on the stage for the winner and when Mr. Levermore who had been sitting behind Miss Esther Everett Lape, chairman of the policy committee, was introduced the audience arose and applauded for a full minute. Expressing his thanks for the honor accorded him, Mr. Levermore said he regarded it "as a trumpet call to service in the ranks for the establishment and maintenance of peace through justice under the law."

McLellie E. Stone, counselor of the Associated Press, presided over the meeting. Other speakers included Miss Lape and Harry T. Stinson, former secretary of war. A telegram giving the name of the winner was sent to Mr. Bok who is in Florida, and the following reply was read by Mr. Stone:

"Will you please convey my sincere congratulations to the author of the American peace award winning plan and tell him I am well. But what with the overwhelming publicity which will be his portion, to say nothing of the hundreds of accommodating persons who will tell him how to spend the money, I do not envy him. The only enlightening experience I see ahead for him is that laboring under the delusion that he is a free born American citizen, he may have his personal motives investigated by a senate committee."

THREE CONVICTS KILLED

Men Who Escaped From Penitentiary Shot to Death by Prison Guards

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—Riddled with buckshot, the bodies of three convicts who escaped from the penitentiary yesterday after killing James Hart, a 60 year old guard, were back at the prison today. Quick actions of a dog resulted in the capture. The three were shot to death by prison guards after they had taken refuge in a haystack on a farm. The rules southeast of here, a dozen penitentiary guards found the fugitives huddled in the hay to protect themselves from the severe blizzard which had visited this state several hours earlier. No sooner had the guards appeared than one of the men opened fire with the revolver taken from the guard. The weapon contained three bullets, and these were fired at the guards, who immediately returned the fire. The bodies of the convicts were loaded on a truck and returned to the penitentiary.

The three who were considered in the prison as bad men were Frank Johnson, serving 15 years for murder; Jack McCall, serving 10 years for robbery; and Miles Thomas, eight years on a burglary charge.

"THE SWEETHEART OF THE A. E. F."

Elise Juma, "the sweetheart of the A. E. F.," is bringing her box of tricks to the Auditorium next Thursday night. She is, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., "the world's most popular entertainer," as she has been called for years, is certain to provide a real treat for the amusement lovers of Lowell. She never fails to score with all who attend her performance and is anxious to make the usual admiration of her.

At Stoughton, where tickets are on sale, the advance sale is said to be large, and Miss Juma is already assured of a large audience. The prices are regarded as the most reasonable of any of the season's big attractions. In order that folks will not run the chance of being disappointed, it is advised to get their tickets as soon as possible.

Mayor Curley Hits G. O. P. Representatives in Washington for Neglecting Hub

Favors Increase in Pay for 9000 Boston Firemen and Policemen

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—An increase of pay for 9000 city employees, firemen and policemen was the outstanding municipal promise of Mayor Curley in his inaugural address to the incoming city council yesterday.

Longest City Inaugural

The document, which he read, was the longest inaugural in the history of the city of Boston, comprising 72 printed pages containing about 20,000 words and in addition the mayor interjected about 1500 words additional impromptu.

He took plenty of time in his preliminary remarks which, while based on the municipal needs of Boston, were in reality a bitter attack upon the republican representatives in Washington for their neglect of the interests of Boston.

"Despite the fact," he said, "that Massachusetts is officially represented in the highest and most influential offices of the nation and that industry and commerce are not matters of partisan politics, her interests are persistently ignored and neglected by the national administration, they are not accorded the aid and consideration the commonwealth has the right to expect and the growth and expansion of the most favorably situated seaport on the North Atlantic coast are retarded."

Says Boston's Needs Ignored

"Massachusetts," said the mayor, "appears to be fat and full of federal honors and lean and empty of federal influence, persistent and aggressive 'chases' compel attention to the demands of their constituents, which Massachusetts, in the name of the mighty is sterile and productive only of Dead Sea fruit."

"We have a right to expect a different character of treatment, and one that will write its results in industry and commerce."

Boston, the upkeep of its harbor and its surrounding waters, hardly recovers as much in 10 years as Philadelphia, an inland river port, recovers in one, and much of the export trade of the middle and northwestern states, whose natural flow is through Boston, is deflected to less desirable ports by the discriminatory railroad rates of a hostile interstate commerce commission.

"Faith in Boston"

"The current depression and slowing down in our great Massachusetts industries bear an intimate relation to the three conditions, and the lack of foreign markets, that absorb surplus products and stimulate work and wages are traceable to the same congressional indifference to our industrial life. It would appear to be the duty of our citizens regardless of all personal political predilections, to insist that our representatives in congress devote more of their time and talent to the 'bread and butter' interests of the commonwealth, and less to fantastic political theories and alien concerns."

The history and achievement of the administration in the past year were recalled and the mayor ended with the satisfaction of information that the city will close its books for the year with every known liability paid and a substantial cash surplus.

Before the ceremonies were over, the mayor said to the city council, among the first to arrive was the venerable Thomas S. Hart, former mayor of Boston, now in the 60th year and former Mayor Matthews, whose presence was commented upon in view of the attacks Mayor Curley made upon him in reference to the Stuart street widening. Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Mayor Curley's broken pal, was also there.

AMERICAN LEGION POST

Local Legionaires Are Ready to Debate Question of Adjusted Compensation

Members of Lowell post No. 1, American Legion, are ready to debate the question of adjusted compensation and it is expected that the meeting will be held in the city hall, with any representative of the organization in Lowell. A resolution to this effect was passed at a meeting of the post last evening.

Other matters coming up for debate and decision at the veterans' meeting last evening, included some nominations concerning the present bylaws and constitution. Commandeur George Walsh was appointed editor of the post.

Commandeur James E. O'Brien, who asked the members to stand in a minute to the memory of their commander, Commander Wilson, the late President Wilson. A part of the post records will be devoted to his memory and the post standard draped for 30 days.

During the discussion of the bonus question, the debate was lively, the problem being to find some way in which the veterans may properly receive views before the public in the best possible form so all will understand the correct motives of the world's veterans in their present campaign for adjusted compensation.

Resolutions were adopted and will be sent to Congressmen Rogers and Senators Walsh and Lodge, declaring that Lowell post No. 1, stands as it has stood from the beginning, in favor of adjusted compensation.

GOODWIN SEEKS NEW CURB ON SPEEDERS

BOSTON, February 5.—The petition of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin, asking that testimony against an operator of an automobile who has been going at a rate of speed exceeding 20 miles an hour in a thickly settled district, where the operator's view is obstructed or upon approaching an intersecting street or going around a corner or curve, shall be conclusive evidence of a greater speed than is reasonable and proper, was heard yesterday by the legislative committee on judiciary.

At an unreasonable rate of speed. Claiming that non-resident operators have greater privileges than residents, he also asked for a law which would permit a police or court officer to remove the number plates of a non-resident car if the owner or operator is convicted of violating the automobile laws.

Opposition to both petitions was entered by J. W. Bowman of the Boston Automobile Dealers' association; A. P. Von Loesbeck of the A.A.A. and Fay Baker, representing the automobile interests of the state.

Marshal A. McLean and F. E. Muskey of the law and ordinance committee of the Springfield Automobile club favored a petition prohibiting the testimony of police officers in plain clothes, where the testimony has been secured by the use of a trap.

THE FIRE AT ITS HEIGHT, WITH FLAMES ENVELOPING ENTIRE STRUCTURE

DENSE CLOUDS OF SUFFOCATING SMOKE ROLLED FROM BUILDING BEFORE FLAMES BURST THROUGH ROOF

Primary loss that will amount to the value of $1,000,000 followed by general alarm fire which practically destroyed the building, surrounding the Lowell Opera House in Central street yesterday afternoon. Fires, clubs and tear-gas were used out and only the hardest kind of work by the department kept the fire in reasonable check and prevented its spreading to other property closely adjacent on the same side.

For more than two hours in a temperature many degrees below freezing point the firemen battled fiercely to subdue the flames which ravaged the building of which the opera house is the center and consequently placed their lives in jeopardy as they stood in and carried on at opera quarters. Scores of powerful streams belched had an effect and the spectacular flames were turned into dense clouds of suffocating smoke and at the end of another hour the last vestige of fire was drowned out, although the recall was not sounded until 7:30 p. m.

With the opera house filled with 1500 high school students gathered for the matinee performance of this year's school play "The Firemen" the fire presented a terrifying aspect for a time, but when it became known that the theatre itself was not so badly damaged and that the people left the building in perfect order and without serious injury, the fire was quickly subdued. The fire was quickly subdued. The fire was quickly subdued.

Remarkable Demonstration The exit of the school children from the theatre when smoke began to drift in as a fire at a constituted one of the most remarkable demonstrations of a school ever witnessed in the city. At the first alarm upon the order of their headmaster, Henry H. Harris, who left his box chair and stood before the footlights, the children fled out with the steps and left the building. There was no sign of panic, no hurry, no rush, no hysteria. The drills at the school had left their mark and the exit of the pupils was as orderly as though a fire drill was in progress. It was a demonstration of control and calm which was never before seen in the city.

Happily such movements of school children are not often needed, but it is reassuring to know that they may be called upon to do the right thing at the proper time when one of their teachers is in a bind.

Three billows of flames With the theatre empty, huge billows of flames burst through the roof of the building, and the opera house was threatened. A fire wall kept the theatre safe, except in one of the places where flames crept in through the roof. Water and smoke caused considerable damage to the opera house, which was only saved by the firemen's quick action and on either side.

The fire spread from the ground floor shop of the Victor Tailors, where it seemed to originate, was rapid. When fire alarm apparatus arrived the fire was already well advanced. The fire was already well advanced. The fire was already well advanced.

CHURCH CONTROVERSY

Presbyterian Fundamentalists

Appeal Against Action of N. Y. Presbytery

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Fundamentalists of the Presbyterian church, led by Rev. Dr. W. D. Buchanan, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church, will appeal to the general assembly of the church against the action of the New York Presbytery yesterday in approving the teachings of Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

The Presbytery yesterday accepted the report of a committee which, after a long investigation, vindicated Dr. Fosdick on a charge of denouncing the doctrine of the church in his sermons.

Dr. Buchanan submitted a protest against the committee's report before the body was taken. When the result of the vote was announced, he resubmitted his protest and demanded the privilege of putting it on record. It was turned over to the committee, which approved Dr. Fosdick's sermons, but the Presbytery, voted by acclamation not to have it read or to debate on it.

PATCH POCKETERS

Novelty patch pockets are one of the most popular methods of trimming sport frocks and blouses.

They had the following comment to make:

In connection with the fire yesterday afternoon that destroyed the Opera House, too much notice cannot be given to the high school student body for their excellent discipline in an alarming situation. Nor can there be any too generous appreciation of the direction and control of Headmaster Henry H. Harris and the capable men and women who, under his direction, were in charge of the play and the students.

Teachers at stations all over the theatre, had command of the situation from the beginning and when Mr. Harris told the audience from the stage that it would be wise to clear the house, Mr. Hunt and his youthful musicians acted like veterans in furnishing music and the house was cleared with order and precision.

The general outcome of this affair, so far as the school and its management is concerned, should be very reassuring to parents who entrust their children to the care of the school authorities.

APPRECIATES WORK OF HIS OFFICERS

Supt. Atkinson was gratified at the voluntary response of police officers who were off duty at the time of the fire. Their assistance in keeping back the crowd and directing traffic simplified matters considerably, and at roll call last night, Lieut. Patrick Flawley read the following notice:

"To the Members of the Police Department:

"I desire at this time to express to you my appreciation for the prompt response to the general alarm of fire which occurred at the opera house on this date and for your general conduct and efficiency in handling the situation. This is one of the emergency cases in which every officer not otherwise detailed is summoned to respond and while there is no extra compensation attached to your duty, a satisfaction in having performed a duty."

"THOMAS H. ATKINSON, Superintendent."

CHECK FOR $25

As a means of expressing his appreciation of the fine battle put up by the men of the fire department at the Central street conflagration yesterday, George K. Tappan, owner of the building just to the south of the Hennessy building, today sent to Chief Edward P. Saunders a check for $25 to be applied to the Firemen's Relief fund.

MORE PRAISE FOR LOWELL FIREMEN

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, was received at The Sun office today:

Feb. 1, 1924.
Dear Sir: We, the tenants living in McDermott's block, wish to thank the firemen for their noble fight in keeping the fire from our homes. We request you to print this as a measure of thanks from us.

Signed,

DISAPPEARED WITH $100,000 IN SECURITIES

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Efforts of the police to locate Jack Lombard, member for the stock brokerage firm of Herzfeld & Stern, who disappeared yesterday with securities valued at $100,000, have been unsuccessful. Officers say he is not known at the Brooklyn address given when he was employed two weeks ago.

Lombard was hired by the brokers through an employment agency. A general alarm has been sent out. The missing securities include 105 shares of Republic of Cuba temporary certificates, seven shares of International Merchant Marine and one share of Amoco Copper.

The Community Chest

any other year since the organization campaign."

President Fisher's message, complete, is as follows:

To the Members of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce:

Those of us who have had occasion to study the trend of the chamber of commerce movement in this country since the war have every reason to feel a great deal of satisfaction at the condition in which the Lowell chamber of commerce finds itself today. It has successfully withstood the test of the years and has maintained the test of being launched on its own merit if we may thus name the completion of the three year term for which men and women pledged themselves during the campaign of 1920. The best test of that is the fact that in the year 1922, we added 102 members, more than we did in any other year since the reorganization campaign.

But membership is not the only test of a successful chamber of commerce. A chamber of commerce is successful insofar as it remains true to the fundamental philosophy of community betterment. The moment that the material betterment of this or that element takes the ascendancy, an organization such as this is founded on the belief of what is best for everybody, must fail.

"The right course is never the easy course and this is true of a chamber of commerce. When we mentioned that we meant the business dedication that followed the war. Chamber of commerce members suffered financially from that dedication some more than others did. There has also been a deflation in spiritual values. With the roaring stimulus of war, it was easy to run with the sentiment of the times. Indeed, it was harder to resist that sentiment of unselfish service, the past few years, however, spiritual values have deflated. In Lowell, as elsewhere, it has not been easy to enlist the active support, or even the moral support, of large numbers for some worthy, unselfish purpose."

"Let us acknowledge the situation. Lowell today, as other cities, is facing the task of rearing around the small, more local, element or group that means a more direct, a more selfish, benefit to the individual. This tendency carried to its extreme would result in the utter neglect of matters of wide import. Let us not be understood as withholding the group or element, or class, if we must call it that. Most of them serve a good purpose. It is the tendency to make the small group paramount that works the hardship. It results in a house divided against itself, a phrase so aptly used by our congressmen in discussing the failure of the Merriam river bill."

"No one can be charged with responsibility for this condition. Probably the reason was a lack of issues of a quality sufficient to enlist the aid of all that brought it about. More likely, however, it is a natural tendency to regard no issue as of sufficient importance to warrant our attention, trusting without reason that 'somebody' ought to look after it."

"However, in recent months, an issue has sprung up, fairly, in our midst, general support and which promises to make possible, unity of action for the future. That is the Community Chest. Acting jointly, the chamber of commerce and the Rotary club have set on foot a movement that at present seems destined to be crowned with success. With such a recognition of our mutual interdependence, we should be able to build for the future, a spirit that will not tolerate lack of attention to public welfare, but which will be ready at all times to forget self and work for general advancement."

THOMAS FISHER, President, Lowell Chamber of Commerce.

STOCK MARKET

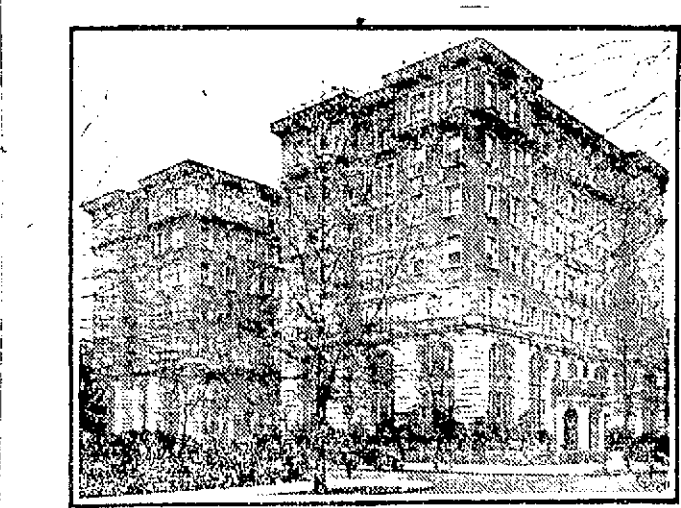

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Stock prices resumed their upward movement at the opening of today's market with the old assuming the leadership. Cattle moved up a point and a dozen other issues in that group opened fractionally higher. Pacific group touched another new high, U. S. Steel preferred advanced a point. Davidson Chemical was heavy, dropping two points. This continued to set the pace. Houston advancing two points and Standard Oil of California and Standard Oil of New Jersey moving up a point or more. Ralls, motors and steels also gave good exhibitions of group strength. Crucible, Chesapeake & Ohio, Union Pacific, Mack Trucks and U. S. Steel common moving up a point or so. South Porto Rican sugar broke 3 1/2 points, but American Sugar Refining advanced 1/4. Foreign exchanges opened steady. Operations on the large side of the market had to contend with a substantial amount of profit-taking during the morning, particularly among some of the recently strong tobacco, dividend-paying, rails and steel stocks. In the main, however, the list tended upward with increasing attention being paid to the steel situation. U. S. Steel common touching another new high at 105 1/2. U. S. Steel preferred and American Sugar Refining advanced 1/4. Foreign exchanges opened steady. Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 5

As soon as Jack had stepped inside of the cave entrance he was very much surprised to see everything just like summer. There was a very pretty little lake and lots of flowers blooming. "Ah," he shouted North Wind, "Mister South Wind has been here since I have and played a trick on me."

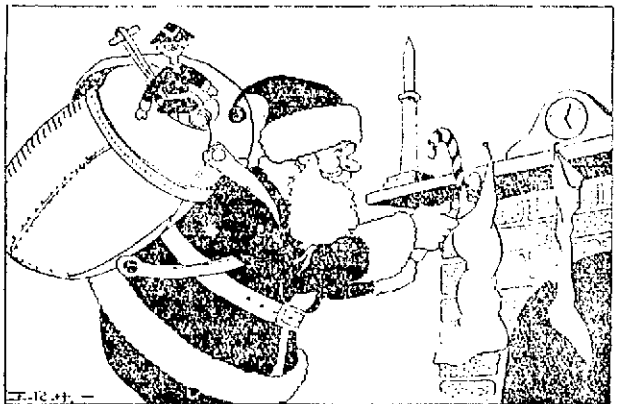

"What do you mean?" questioned Jack. "Why, I mean that he has turned everything in here to summer. When I left it was winter. The lake was frozen and there was snow on the stems of those flowers instead of buds and blossoms." Then Jack started to take his snow shoes and his hat and coat off.

"Better leave those winter garments on," snapped North Wind. "I'm going to bring winter time back here in a hurry." And, while Jack sat on the ground, watching, Old North Wind started a great commotion. At first it rained a little rain; then it hailed; then it snowed. And it grew cold. (Continued.)

"One foot that can't walk, One mouth that can't talk, One knee that comes and goes, One room for five pink toes."

"One leg that can't stand, Wears a collar, a stretchy band, Bumpy ribs up and down, Toots all over town."

"Such morning seats a meat, Stuff like Paddy, mouth to eat, There's all day or night, Never eats another bite."

"Does when Santa brings a treat, Does him all he wants to eat, Just at bedtime, too. A question, if it gives him indication."

"Hasn't any sprinkler nose, Don't know why it's called a nose, Maybe comes it's back and round, And never makes a sound."

"Johnny! Don't you want to bed, Never took his old bed, Must have dreamed he went a walk, In his."

MOVE FOR REPEAL OF VOLSTEAD ACT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF NICKY ARNSTEIN

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—The repeal of the Volstead act, upon the ground that it has proved itself a complete failure, and the liberalization of the liquor laws so as to permit the licensed sale of light wines and beers, form the primary objects of the recently organized National American League, of which Robert W. White is president and J. C. Heery of Washington is acting as general organizer. Mr. Heery has appointed J. E. Lister of the league to be in charge of a group of some 50 organizers for the general territory in and around Boston, with headquarters in the latter building.

The National American League is, in the words of its president, an organization of every average citizen, determined to encourage 100 per cent Americanism, to promote respect for law, to encourage the enactment of good and statesmanlike legislation, and to discourage that of ill-considered and to assist and promote the enforcement of the law, to support and encourage public officials in carrying out the principles of American institutions and of the constitution of the United States.

SUCCESSFUL WHIST PARTY AND DANCE

The ladies of Branch St. Elizabeth, Irish National Foresters, conducted a very successful whist party and dance in A. O. H. hall last evening. A capacity audience was present. Among the lucky winners at whist were: Ladies' first prize, Lucy Shahan; second prize, Mary Flaherty; third, Catherine McKelvey; fourth, Nellie Cassidy. In the male races the prizes were won by Hugh McQuade, J. J. Brennan, Patrick McKelvey and John Lenox.

In the "twenty-five" tournament, the following ladies were successful: First, Margaret Marichan; second, Nellie Brennan; third, Mary Fitzgerald; fourth, Maria J. McMahon. In the gentlemen's class, Thomas Nevin won first prize; James Brady, second; Joseph Hanley, third; and Daniel McMahon, fourth.

Consolation prizes were awarded to: Thomas Hanley, Michael Ryan, Mary Murphy, Mary Peltier, A. Wall, Edward prize was won by little Edward McGinnis, holder of the lucky number. The dance was enjoyed after the card games while entertainment numbers were given by Anna Matthews, Mary Flanagan, Anna Foster and Al Brown.

TWO FIRES IN BLOCK

One Fireman Injured and Property Damage Set at $25,000 in Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 5.—One fireman was injured and property damage estimated at $25,000 was done early this morning in two fires, both of which occurred in the Raymond block in the downtown section of this city, within three hours of each other.

Henry Smith, houseman, was suffering from the Rhode Island hospital suffering from deep gasches in his left arm.

Firemen's co-operative organizations throughout the country did a business totaling approximately $2,000,000,000 in 1923, the United States department of agriculture estimates.

WORK OF THE SALVATION ARMY

One of the most persevering branches of work carried on by the Salvation Army is amongst its young people, and while its work among the adult members of the families is increasing, they are also putting forth special efforts to save the young. Throughout the whole of the United States, next Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to young people's work and special plans are being made by the local corps for the annual event. Next Sunday afternoon in the local hall on Appleton street there will be a dedication service, also some of the young people will be taken in as junior members of the local, and on Monday evening a program of interesting items will be given by the younger people, and at the close there will be the distribution of prizes for attendance at the Sunday school during the past year. The local work carried on under the supervision of Mr. Alfred Bell, and Miss Elizabeth Gommell is the young people's treasurer, both of whom are energetic workers among the young.

TAXICAB HIT TROLLEY, TWO FATALLY INJURED

ARLINGTON, Feb. 5.—Two persons were probably fatally injured when a taxicab crashed into a one man trolley car on Myrtle street today. Miss Genevieve R. Hickey of Belmont, a passenger in the taxicab, and William O'Connell of Arlington, its driver, sustained fractured skulls. No one on the trolley car was hurt. The motor man was William E. Gray of Melrose.

SOUTH END CLUB

The South End club which was entirely burned out of its quarters in yesterday afternoon's disastrous fire, has secured a temporary meeting place on the third floor of the Hennessy building in Central street, just this side of Middlesex street. A hall there will be used until permanent quarters again are available.

Fire in High Street

Fire of undetermined origin broke out early this morning in the attic of a house at 301 High street occupied by Police Officer Edward Hill. A telephone alarm was sent in to the Central fire station at 6:25 and a bell alarm from box 52 followed a few minutes later.

The fire evidently started in an old bureau stored in the attic but before the firemen arrived it had spread into the wall partitions. Considerable chipping had to be done before the fire in the partitions could be extinguished. The fire was rounded at 7 o'clock.

No Trace of Priest's Slayer

The many friends of Mrs. Grace Foss of 27 Pond street will be pleased to hear she is resting comfortably at St. John's hospital after a very serious operation.

BOYS WITNESSED SHOOTING

The shooting occurred within a stone's throw of the Lyric theatre in front of which a large crowd was gathered, and about four blocks from the church of the Holy Spirit. Strange to say, none of the theatre crowd on either side of the street, with the exception of two boys, Ralph Sherrin and Ralph Desposito, the police obtained the only description they have in the case. The boys say a man was walking with the priest and as they were about to cross High street, which intersects Main, the unknown stepped to one side, pulled the revolver, fired the shot and fled up High street. He is described as about five feet, six inches in height, of slim build, and wearing a light overcoat and cap. The crowd quickly gathered about the prostrate priest, and he was hurried to the hospital by the police. No one among the crowd had seen the shooting, being attracted by the report of the gun, the police say.

GENERAL RELAXATION OF TENSION IN EUROPE OPPOSED TO PROPOSED COURT HOUSE SITE

GENEVA, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—General relaxation of tension is noticeable all over Europe, said Norman H. Davis, former American assistant secretary of state, in opening today the first public meeting of the League of Nations neutral commission to investigate the Menele controversy of which he is president.

Mr. Davis added that he had been impressed by observation that "in one zone of dispute after another the spirit of controversy is giving place to an enlightened spirit of conciliation and mutual concession."

The Menele question involves the interests of Poland and Lithuania in the Menele territory in Lithuania, but in which important maritime rights asserted by Poland are in controversy.

CURTAIN DROPS ON FIRST ACT OF OLYMPICS

CHAMONIX, France, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The curtain went down on the first act of the 1924 Olympic games today. The closing scene witnessed the solemn distribution of the winter sports prizes at the stadium by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic committee assisted by Count Chary, the Marquis de Valenciennes and Francis de Bel, respectively president, vice president and general secretary of the French Olympic committee.

The winners received gold medals, second place competitors silver, and third place holders bronze medals. All the participants were awarded Olympic diplomas.

OVERTURNED STOVE STARTS FIRE IN STORE

An overturned stove in a store at 227 Commercial street, occupied by S. Depina, was responsible for an alarm from box 41 at 2:58 o'clock this morning. Hot coals from the stove spread over the floor and set it on fire in several places and upon the arrival of the fire apparatus the smoke was so thick it seemed that the store was doomed to destruction. Entry to the store was effected despite the thick smoke and a few well directed streams of chemical quickly extinguished the flames. The goods in the store were damaged considerably by the smoke and chemical, but the actual fire damage was small.

According to persons in the store at the time of the fire, the belt of a second store as she was passing out of the store and her subsequent efforts to free the coat resulted in the stove being overturned.
